Fishing Equipment: Fish are typically 3lb – 9lb

Rods:

Use 9-foot 5- and 6-weight rods, reels with good disc drags, and pack a selection of floating lines and sink-tip setups (200-grain integrated tips work great). Back-up rods are always recommended.

Reels:

Should have a minimum of 100 yards of backing and an adjustable drag.

Lines:

Weight-forward floating fly lines are the norm on the rivers you will be fishing. Also bring an integrated sinking line or two for streamers fishing. These lines should have anywhere from 10 to 20 feet of 200- to 300-grain sinking tips. For still waters, then full-sinking and clear intermediate lines are appropriate for streamers in deeper water. Lastly, always include a floater for dry flies.

Leaders:

9-foot 1X for streamers and 9-foot 3X to 5X for dry flies. You will also need extra tippet spools from 5X to 1X.

Flies:

We recommend a typical Western trout fly selection: hoppers, Chernobyl ants, stimulators, humpies and wulffs in #8-12; beadhead nymphs in #14-20, tan and olive caddis patterns in #14 – 16; mayfly parachutes, emergers, and cripples in #14-20; and a selection of streamers (conehead buggers, matukas, muddler minnows, and bunny leeches).
