Brechin Castle

The Castle is set in 10,000 plus acres and is the seat of the Earl of Dalhousie, Chieftain of Clan Ramsay. The castle dates to the 13th century and has been in their family since the 17th century. The adjacent estate grounds offer a good quality traditional Pheasant shoot with birds being driven mainly from magnificent hardwoods.

Edzel Castle

Also owned by the Earl of Dalhousie this interesting ruined 16th century castle and its wonderful garden is surrounded by a good quality Pheasant and Partridge shoot that will test anybody. Both Edzel and Brechin Castle shoots were favourites of Queen Victoria.

Rossie Ochil

Bought by local businessman Andrew Simpson some 17 years ago Rossie has been transformed from a sheep farm to an excellent Pheasant and Partridge shoot. Lying in the Ochil hills the topography shows excellent birds and stunning scenery.
