Red Stag Stalking Newtonmore

Hendry Ramsay & Waters are delighted to offer the following opportunities to stalk stags on an excellent estate in the Cairngorm National Park on the edge of the Mondialiths. Located close to Newtonmore the available ground extends to over 8,000 acres. The Estate benefits from a well-managed deer herd and selected stags have been used to breed with and enhance the quality of the herd. Weights have increased by almost 1 stone over the past three years and 12 point Royal stags are regularly taken on the Estate.

Most unusually there are no trophy fees.

There are two resident experienced stalkers and ample ground to have two rifles out from October onwards. There is a good road network that extends deep into the main glen and access beyond this point is by Argocat. Once on the tops of the hill the ground is relatively flat.

This is a very scenic estate and clients who are seeking a genuinely authentic experience of stalking in the Scottish Highlands will be delighted. Although not unusually difficult terrain, please remember that a reasonable degree of physical fitness is required.

There is a two bedroom recently refurbished cottage available as part of the package. It benefits from a central location, adjacent to the Head stalker's house so guests will not lose time travelling to and from the Estate and can begin stalking almost as soon as they leave the cottage. The cottage is let on a self-catered basis and supplies are sourced from the nearby town of Newtonmore.

An alternative three bedroom cottage is let separately. Please enquire if this option is of interest.

Two prime weeks are available:

Week commencing 26th September. A full week including accommodation and 4 stags. At this time of year only 1 group will be out per day, but stalking can be 2:1. Trout fishing is also included on the hill Loch in the heart of the Estate. £6,000 + VAT

Week commencing 3rd October. A full week for 2 rifles, each shooting 1:1 including accommodation and 6 Stags £7,500 + VAT.

Additional stags if available will be £800+ VAT each.
